

Allow open public debate on this issue before making any decision. Do not allow further media consolidation because this is likely to lead to a much less free society.